

Institute of Metal Research
Chinese Academy of Sciences

Dear colleagues, friends!
We sincerely congratulate you on the 70th anniversary of the founding of your institute!

The path traversed by your institute is marked by major scientific achievements in the field of the study of metals. High scientific potential, professionalism, a sense of responsibility for the result are the components of your success. All this allows intensive and up-to-date research at the institute, which is confirmed by the introduction of the developments of your scientists in industry, numerous monographs, publications in prestigious journals, copyright certificates for inventions and patents. You are not afraid of novelty and always stand at the forefront of science. May the intellectual and creative potential accumulated by you be effectively used in the development of science in the future.

Together with you we rejoice in your success! We are especially proud to be part of your current success. We highly appreciate the long-standing friendly relations between our organizations and look forward to their further development and strengthening.

On this significant day for you, please accept our sincere congratulations on your anniversary and good wishes for new creative success, effective development, good health and happiness, well-being for the entire team!

Sincerely yours,
on behalf of the directorate of the PhTI NAS of Belarus

Vitali Zaleski

Dear friends!!!

Congratulations on a wonderful day - the birthday of the Metal Research Institute!

We are confident that our cooperation will only grow stronger and develop!

Best regards and best wishes to the entire research team!!!

Director

Vitali Zaleski

Deputy Director

Vladimir Petrenko

Head of Department

Prof. Alexander Volochko

Head of the laboratory

Artur Pokrovsky

70

Advanced Metal Forming Team
Institute of Metal Research,
Chinese Academy of Sciences